

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

We the citizens of the U.S., and not big business or indeed any business, own (and should own) the means of educating citizens about what is happening, so that our democracy can function properly. The proposed rules diametrically oppose such an assumption.